

Resolution Opposing Attacks on Core Principles of Education

Whereas ongoing attacks on academic freedom, free speech, faculty governance, and equity from government officials including the president of the United States, are irreparably damaging education in the United States;

Whereas these attacks weaponize allegations of antisemitism and racism to obscure struggles against real problems, justify massive cutbacks, and silence protests against the U.S.-sponsored genocide perpetrated by Israel in Gaza;

Be it resolved that the AHA condemns attacks on academic freedom, free speech, faculty governance, and equity and their specious justifications; it urges all U.S. educational institutions to join in this opposition, and to particularly defend untenured and adjunct faculty and international students who are especially vulnerable to doxxing, firing, and deportation.

Be it resolved that the AHA will form a committee to protect academic freedom that will pursue the objectives specified in this resolution.
